----- Wolfeo @ Twitter Wolfeo is a website about FREE Android apps, games and firmware, for Android, Android Tablets, Android Phones, Android TV Boxes and other devices. ----- GetWolfeo v1.0 Failed to deserialize one or more values that map to your type. More details is included below. To fix this, you will either need to register the type with a serializer provider, like DataContractSerializer (Fully version can be found here: or make the types on which your instances depend serializable, like so: public class MyClass : ISerializable { public int propA { get; set; } public static MyClass Create() { return new MyClass { propA = 5 }; } public void GetObjectData(SerializationInfo info, StreamingContext context) { throw new NotImplementedException(); } public void OnDeserializing(StreamingContext context) { // Get data from the stream //... } public void OnSerializing(StreamingContext context) { // Serialize data to the stream //... } } Then, only classes marked with the [Serializable] attribute can be serialized, unless you create your own data contract serializer to serialize your type (like I did here, above). ----- Information about this can be found at: ----- Deserialization Error Message: The variable or field "name" is uninitialized. The variable or field "name" was used before it was assigned a value. A null reference exception can occur when the null reference is passed to the GetObjectData or GetObject method. A resource with the same name is already
